Does OpenAI train on my content to improve model performance?

For non-API consumer products like ChatGPT and DALL-E, we may use content such as prompts, responses, uploaded images, and generated images to improve our services. Please refer to this article to understand how this content may be used to improve model performance and how you can opt-out. You can request to opt out of having your content used to improve our services at any time by filling out this form. This opt out will apply on a going-forward basis only.

Please note that for our API product, OpenAI will not use data submitted by customers via our API to train or improve our models, unless you explicitly decide to share your data with us for this purpose.

Seriously. These are just a few examples.

Just a Few Examples

Career Exploration

“I am in college and not sure what I want to do for a career. I'm really lost.”

Resumes & Cover Letters

“I found an internship I want to apply to! It's asking for a resume and cover letter, but I've never written one before.”

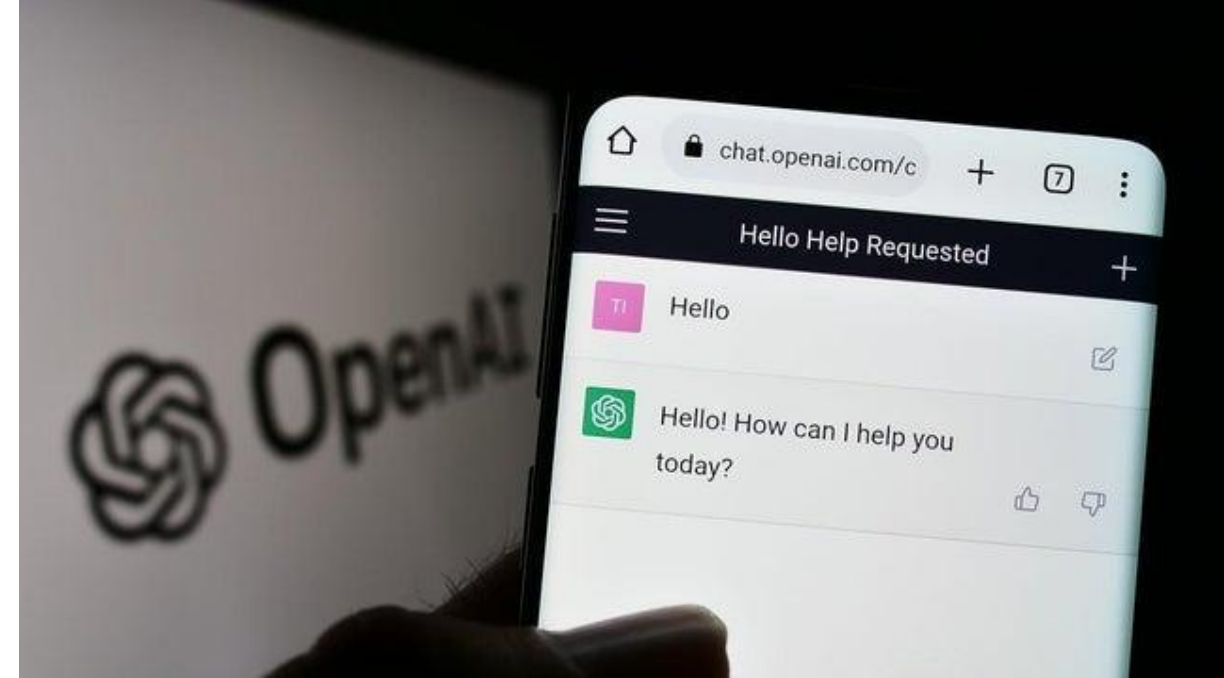

Interviewing

“Could you pretend you are the interviewer so I can practice?”

Networking

“I don't really know how find professionals on LinkedIn. And what would I need to say when reaching out to someone?”

Let's Play!

Create a Prompt

~~With your group,~~ come up with a career counseling scenario and write a prompt to start asking ChatGPT for help.

Then we'll try them out together!

How will your work evolve?

1-minute to Think | 15 minutes to Discuss

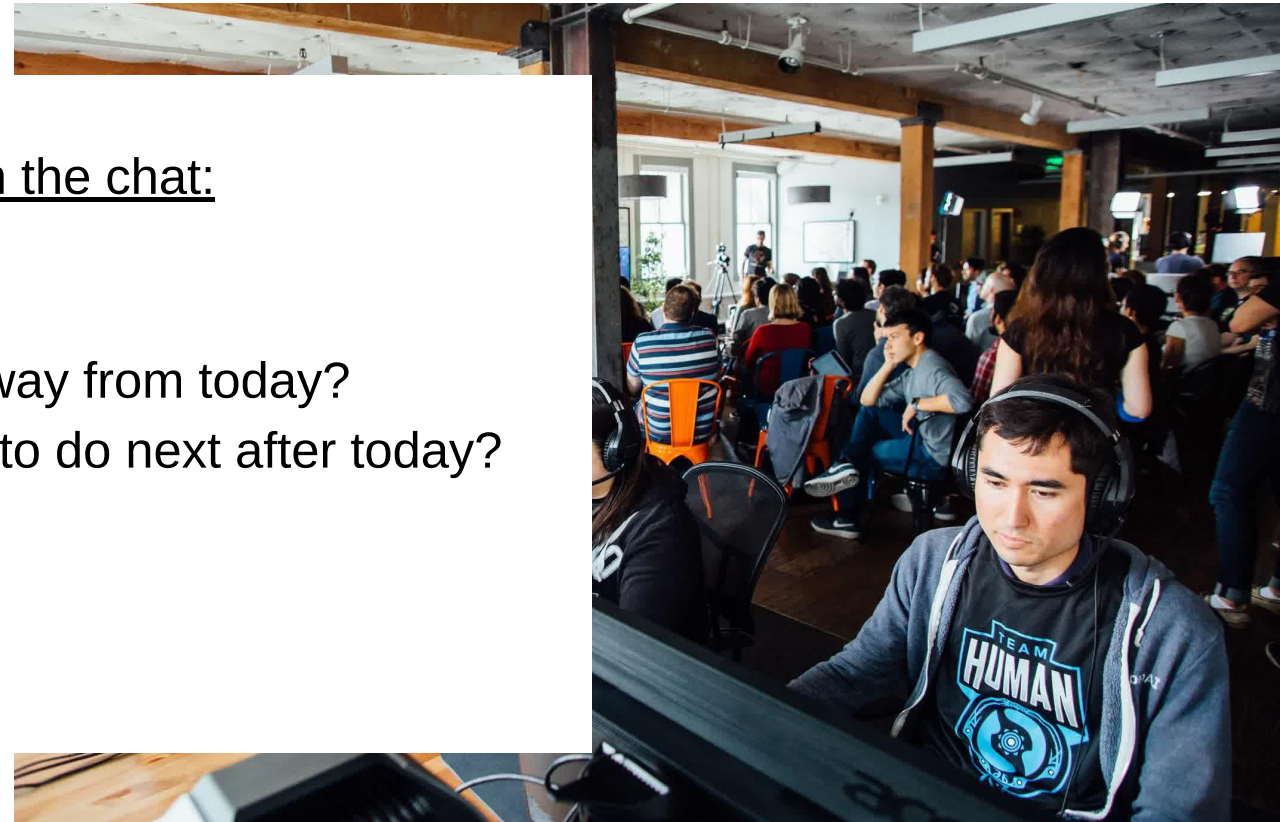

~~With your group,~~ discuss how you might use ChatGPT in your career counseling work. What changes might you make? What are your biggest, dreamiest ideas? What are your worst concerns? Opportunities? Challenges?

After Today

Answer in the chat:

1. What is one takeaway from today?
2. What do you need to do next after today?
